

LAST GAME THURSDAY

Field Day Will Be Celebrated Here--Large Crowd Expected.

Team Has Been Playing Good Ball for the Past Week.

The Blue Grass League base ball season will come to a close in this city Wednesday when the locals will cross bats with the Paris team. Thursday has been designated as Field Day, and besides a game of ball with Paris, prizes will be offered for the fastest base running, longest batted ball and for numerous other athletic feats. There will be a number of out-of-town players here representing various teams in this league to compete for the prizes, and it is expected a record-breaking crowd will be on hand.

During the past two weeks the Mt. Sterling ball team has improved wonderfully, and with a few additions it seems certain that we will be represented by one of the best teams in the league in 1913.

While base ball was not a paying proposition in this city this season, considering the quality of ball that was played the fans turned out well, and it seems sure that with a winning team in 1913 base ball will be a money-making proposition in Mt. Sterling.

Postoffice Force Winners.

Since our last issue members of the Postoffice force and representatives from the local banks and printing offices have played two games of baseball, the Postoffice boys winning both contests. The first game was played last Wednesday and was well attended; the final score was 15 to 12 in favor of Uncle Sam. Douglas did the pitching for the Postoffice, while Brown and Wyatt pitched for the Banker-Printer combination. The second game was played Monday afternoon before a small crowd, the Postoffice boys again winning, this time by the score of 8 to 6, in a much better played game of ball than the first one. Douglas again pitched for the Postoffice, while Hedden pitched for the opposing team.

The boys composing the Banker-Printer nine have about decided the Postoffice bunch is just a little bit heavy, and are ready to don their caps to this fast aggregation of ball players.

If your property is listed for sale for taxes you will have only yourself to blame, so come in and settle at once. W. F. CROOKS, Sheriff Montgomery County.

MRS. TOM'S PART IN THE ELECTION

Governor Marshall's Wife Has the Memory For Names.

ROMANCE OF THEIR LIVES.

The Notification of the Indiana Executive For Democratic Vice Presidency Honors a Record Breaker.

By J. C. HAMMOND,
Of Democratic National Publicity Bureau.

Indianapolis.—Just about the time that thousands of friends of Governor Thomas Riley Marshall were anxiously waiting to shake his hand in congratulation over his acceptance as candidate of vice president on the Democratic ticket, a smiling woman stepped before him, and if one could have heard what she whispered in his ear it would have been something like "Now, hurry in, Tom, and change your clothes."

And Tom Marshall forgot to shake hands with the enthusiastic friends until he had carried out the orders of Mrs. Tom.

Indiana has honored four of her sons as vice presidential candidates on the Democratic ticket, but the crowds that greeted Governor Marshall in the big coliseum in the state fair grounds here today were the greatest in the history of the party.

The west wanted to show the east what could be done in notification honors, and, while Mrs. Marshall was happy, of course, over the honors for her husband, she was also worried, for her husband comes mighty close to being father, husband, son and partner all in one. And when a woman has that combination on her hands to care for she has every right to be worried.

Governor Marshall will never gain any honors as a hammer thrower. He is not built that way.

While all the country was reading the vigorous words of Governor Marshall which told the voters what he expects Democracy to do in carrying out the pledges for the next four years it's worth while to know what part a woman is taking in the affairs of the campaign—how Tom Marshall happens to be in the position in which he stands today.

The good people of Columbia City, Ind., never thought Thomas Riley Marshall was a "marrying man." For forty years he had lived with his parents, nursing both his father and mother, who were invalids, which was the reason Governor Marshall was not a marrying man. He felt his first duty was to his parents.

Meeting Mrs. Marshall.

After the death of his parents Governor Marshall dived deeper into his law practice, and one day an urgent case took him to Angola, Ind. His duties called him to the county clerk's office, and there he met Miss Lois Kinsey, daughter of the county clerk, who was assisting her father in the office.

From that day Governor Marshall had more business around the county clerk's office in Angola than any lawyer in half a dozen nearby counties.

Governor Marshall was forty-two years of age when he was married, Mrs. Marshall being nearly twenty years his junior.

The Marshalls had been married only a few weeks when the future vice president was called to an adjoining county on a case that would consume some five or six weeks of his time.

"Now, I did not want to be starting off like that," Governor Marshall explained to a friend one day, so I just told Mrs. Marshall that I thought she should go along. And she did."

Since then Governor Marshall has never made a trip without Mrs. Marshall going along. They have traveled all over the country together; they go to banquets and political meetings to gether until the friends of the Indiana executive refer to him and his wife as the "birds."

"Tom Marshall is not overstrong," explained one of his friends. "While not a delicate man, his constitution is not of the most vigorous type."

"When he gets into a political battle he forgets his weakness. He gives all that is in him, and that will tell on any man. Mrs. Marshall soon discovered that the governor would become heated in making a speech and the next day his voice would be husky.

She decided that he had better give up some of the handshaking and take care of his health first. So when you find him making a speech he does not stay around to hear the applause of the audience. Rather, he hurries to his room and changes his clothing.

"Some people have said that Tom Marshall is not a handshaking politician. He is not. His wife thinks it is more important to guard his health than to carry out the old time policy, and she is correct, as she is in most all other things."

"Home Air" Prevails.

The Marshall home is typical of the mistress. It is a home of books, and still one does not feel "bookish." One of the Marshall friends said he always felt like eating when he entered the Marshall home in Columbia City or the executive mansion at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Marshall believes in a home first, and the "home air" prevails. "If Governor Marshall ever occupied the White House people would not know that historic institution," declares an admirer. "Mrs. Marshall would have it a real home. People would feel comfortable even in the midst of the gold and glitter."

But it is not only as a wife and the mistress of a home that Mrs. Marshall shows her ability. She is a politician and a clever one. She also has a remarkable memory.

Governor Marshall has earned the reputation of being in a class of story tellers all by himself. He can remember stories, but he forgets names. A name is something to be cast aside with Governor Marshall, and this is one of the regrets of his life, if he has any regrets. The governor is not a worrying man. He is somewhat of a fatalist, but if he could he would like to remember names; but, not having that ability, he does not worry, for Mrs. Marshall is the new rememberer of the family.

She has a peculiar ability along this line. Not only does she remember the last name, but any combination of names comes as second nature to her, and she carries this ability on down to the children and cousins of any one seeking the governor.

While the governor is shaking hands and trying to remember whether his caller is Jones or Smith, Mrs. Marshall is busy supplying the information and asking about all the relatives.

Ideal Partners.

Governor Marshall has no brothers or sisters, and his parents being dead leaves him somewhat barren of relatives.

Governor Marshall's friends are enthusiastic over his home life. When he has started on talking of his wife a new light in the Hoosier executive comes to the surface.

They come near being ideal married partners. "I was talking to Tom one day," explained one of his most intimate friends. "We were leaning back, and Tom had been telling some of his good stories to illustrate various topics of our conversation. We were waiting for Mrs. Marshall to come back from a shopping tour, and I happened to remark that I liked Mrs. Marshall better every time I met her."

"Well, now that's the way she strikes me, Jim," he said. "We have been married some sixteen years, and as time goes that is a long or short period, just as you think. To me it is but a fleeting day. Then I think back over my married life and find I have grown to know Mrs. Marshall better every day. A man must not only love but he must also respect his partner in this life—respect her in all things. She must have wonderful qualities to make the love and respect grow deeper and better each day. That's been my history."

"The fact that Mrs. Marshall has been in sympathy in my work, my play, my life, is good. But I have been in sympathy with hers. Ours is not a one sided life. We have been partners, and that's the way it should be in this world."

Mrs. Marshall has watched over his administration of the affairs of Indiana with a jealous care. There has been nothing of the spectacular in his administration. It has been a sane government. The laws that he has fought for and won show the spirit of the man. They are uplifting. They deal with the improvement of man, woman and child.

While Governor Marshall is described as a "tender hearted" executive, nevertheless he is a fighter. He belongs to the old fighting stock of Virginia.

Governor Marshall is not a dodger. He has his opinions, and he lets them be known. While he is an organization man, he knows that organizations are not perfect—that they can make mistakes. If they make mistakes he thinks it is his duty to say so and get the saying over at the first possible moment.

Mrs. Marshall is not satisfied with her domestic duties alone. She wants to do her share in problems of the political and business world. Mrs. Marshall is said to have discussed in detail with her husband his action on the Baltimore convention, and when it was seen that Marshall was the man who was going to go on the ticket with Wilson he wanted to know what his wife thought about it.

ALSO AT ARMAGEDDON.

—New York World.

"It won't be any harder than being Governor of Indiana, and if the party thinks you are the man it only agrees with my opinion," she said, and that settled the matter with Governor Marshall.

Mrs. Marshall had the honor of being the first woman in Indiana to hold an office. She was appointed county clerk of Steuben county by her father and held that office for a number of years.

When Governor Marshall and his wife were about to be married she decided that her last official act of the office would be to make out the marriage license. Governor Marshall accompanied his wife to the county clerk's office and watched her with care as she noted the records in the big book and filled out the license and watched her as she carefully signed her father's name, with her own as deputy.

Mrs. Marshall, having blotted the ink, said, "Now we can go."

"Not yet," laughed Governor Marshall.

"Why, we are all fixed," explained Mrs. Marshall, pointing to the license. "Yes, but I have to pay for it," replied the governor. "It's all right for you to make it out, but it's up to me to pay the fee." And he did.

Mrs. Marshall is a keen student, and, having established the practice of going with her husband on all his trips, be they short or long, they make it a point to carry along some book.

Mrs. Marshall is as much of a humanitarian as the governor. A glance at some of the bills that have been passed by the 1911 Indiana legislature gives an insight into the governor:

To curtail child labor.
To regulate sale of cold storage products.

To require hygienic schoolhouses and medical examination of children.
To prevent blindness at birth.
To regulate sale of cocaine and other drugs.

To provide free treatment for by-drophobia.

To establish public playgrounds.
To improve pure food laws.
To protect against loan sharks.
To provide police court matrons.
To prevent traffic in white slaves.
To permit night schools.

To require medical supplies as part of a train equipment.
Governor Marshall has also played an active part in providing for protection of labor, as is exemplified by the following acts:

To create a bureau of inspection for workshops, factories, mines and boilers.
To establish free employment agencies.

To require full train crews.
To require safety devices on switch engines.
To require efficient headlights on engines.

To require standard cabooses.
To provide weekly wage, etc.
And Governor Marshall has consulted with his "partner" on all these bills. He is quoted as saying a man can't go far wrong in taking the advice of a wife—if she is his partner as well as his wife.

Having exhausted his supply of adjectives in denouncing Taft, Roosevelt is now leading a campaign of denunciation of every one who does not agree with himself.

Farmers have pulled against the short end of the yoke long enough. Wilson and Marshall promise to see that the pulling is made more nearly even.

Wonder how the colonel likes being an outcast?

ROLLA WELLS IS EARLY ON THE JOB

Democratic National Treasurer is After Small Contributor.

THE PEOPLE TO HELP.

There is to Be No "Tainted Money" Used in Electing Wilson and Marshall.

New York.—A small, smooth shaved, middle aged man with a coat of tan that gave evidence of much outdoor life recently came into the Waldorf carrying a suit case early in the afternoon and registered as "Rolla Wells, St. Louis, Mo."

The smooth shaved little man, who is to be the watchdog of the Wilson campaign money from now on, was asked for vital statistics, whereupon it was learned at first hand that he is a banker and ex-mayor of St. Louis. He is fifty-six years old, was graduated at Princeton in 1873, or three years before Governor Wilson was graduated; that he has two sons who are Princeton men and a grandson who some day will be a Princeton man; that he had no notion of seeing New York this summer until the Wilson organization selected him as its treasurer and that just at present the one thing that sticks out in the appointment in his mind is that the new job cut in seriously upon a most beautiful vacation which he and Mrs. Wells had been enjoying in a camp at Little Traverse bay, Michigan.

Mr. Wells believes in getting at his desk at 8 o'clock in the morning.

"We are going to raise our campaign fund through the small contributions," said Mr. Wells.

"I am sure that a large part of the money will be raised by popular subscription."

"The people have confidence in Woodrow Wilson, and they will give what they can of their means to elect such a man president."

"I am a great believer in publishing broadcast, before and after election, the various contributions made."

"There are men who can well afford to give the committee $5,000, but I want to assure the public that we are not going to have any tainted money."

"We are appealing to the people, and we are relying on them to help elect Wilson and Marshall."

"I have two boys who have been graduated from Princeton, one five years ago and one seven. But it is not because ours is a Princeton family that I like Governor Wilson. He is a great big man and the type that we should have in public life."

Woodrow Wilson says this is not a time to be afraid to "speak out in meeting." That he was not afraid is demonstrated by his logical speech in accepting the Democratic nomination.

Roosevelt was willing to crawl from the White House to the capitol in 1908 if he could help his friend Root. Today he would like nothing better than meeting Root up a dark alley.

The Democrats are depending on the small contributor to help elect Wilson and Marshall. The appeal is being made to the people, and the people are responding.

Wilson will make the most accessible president who has ever occupied the White House. He is typically a Democratic man.

Farmers have awakened to the folly of the so called blessings of a protective tariff.

Reading in Summer.

Several publishers optimistically argue that "summer fiction" is becoming a weakened tradition. In most lines of business there is more leisure for books in the summer. For reading nature books, travel, and much of historical interest, the months of journeying and outdoor life are most appropriate; and there appears to be sense in the argument that a good many brains work as well with the thermometer above seventy-five as below thirty-two. Possibly the publicity men who lately have begun to collect some of these arguments against complete demoralization of the reading public during the hot spell were most to blame in the first place for establishing the tradition that the Tired Business Man and the Languid Lady should peruse nothing in July and August but feeble novels! Male readers certainly should shoulder as much of the odium for accepting the tradition as the Summer Girl. O. Henry once went on record that:

"Women do not read the love stories in the magazines. They read the poker-game stories and the recipes for cucumber lotion. The love stories are read by fat cigar drummers and little ten-year-old girls."

Women have a superior outlook for future summer reading seasons in that the new generations of college women are reading better books on the average than the typical young male collegian cares to consume.

..... what that the month of May is comen, and that I here the fowles singe. E And that the floures ginnen for to springe. Farwel my book and my deuocoun!

Few who have quoted this appear to appreciate the fact that the poet said nothing about swapping his flowers and birds back again for a more tawdry variety of books.—Collier's.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION.

Dairy Farming.

During the past summer the members of the Dairy Department of the Agricultural College have been making frequent visits to the dairy farms of Kentucky. The methods followed on each farm, and the equipment used, have been closely studied, and a large amount of data has been collected, that will prove of vital interest to the dairymen when it is published in bulletin form a little later. Without exception the dairymen have entered heartily into the spirit of the investigation and they have contributed willingly of their store of useful information, which has been gained by long experience. Before the survey is completed more than one hundred dairy farms will have been visited.

Some significant facts have already been clearly brought out. In producing milk and butter for the market it has been found that the dairymen are making more money from medium priced than from high priced cows. Some of the most profitable herds have been built up by the use of good grade cows, and the constant use of a pure bred bull, and the raising of the best heifers. Some dairymen have made considerable money by buying young heifers and rearing them for the dairy.

Two or three localities visited furnish examples of the advantages of community breeding. In one county (Shelby) hundreds of Jersey cattle find a ready market each year at very attractive prices. Jerseys are bred on nearly every farm in that community, and this fact attracts buyers from all parts of the United States, who can readily buy a car load, thus effecting a material saving of time and securing lower freight rates on car load lots.

An interesting point is connected with the methods and cost of rearing the dairy calf. Some of the best herds visited were made up of heavy milking cows, the feed of which, during the first months of their lives, consisted almost exclusively of skimmed milk, supplemented by a little shelled corn and bran, with pasturage in summer and hay in winter. A few dairymen, who breed fancy stock, use whole milk as a calf feed, but it has been our observation that as healthy and as strong cattle can be reared on skimmed milk, if the skimmed milk is kept as clean as is the whole milk, and if it is fed warm to the calves. Some dairymen are successfully replacing a large part of the milk with milk substitutes in the feeding of calves. In some cases two calves are permitted to suck a fresh cow, a third calf being given to the cow when she weans the first two. It has been found that the dairymen receive on an average the following prices for dairy products in this State: 20 per cent. cream 75c a gallon. Milk 11c in summer and 16c in winter, when shipped to the city milk dealer. Dairymen who retail their own milk in the cities retail it at 25 to 30c (sometimes 40c) a gallon. Butter milk (retail) 10c a gallon. Many dairymen near Louisville and Cincinnati use grade cows (mostly Shorthorn and Holstein grades) purchased at the stock yards, buying them fresh, and selling them after fattening when dry. They claim to average 2 to 2½ gallons of milk per cow per day during the entire year.

The cost of rearing a heifer to time of first calf was found to average between $30 and $35. One of the largest and best dairy farms in Kentucky has a $1200 milking barn, with concrete floor, and a $1500 rest shed, where the cows are kept, fed and watered. This man has 62 cows, and last winter had 80. The rest shed adjoins the milking barn, with a shed and hay loft between shed and barn. The silage machine, engine and silos are arranged in this shed. Everything is kept under cover. Two 16 by 30 ft. silos, made of wood by the dairyman himself cost $150 each six years ago. A 30 by 16 ft. concrete silo erected two years ago cost $235. For 80 cows this dairyman used 100 tons of straw annually in bedding. But the cows are kept cleaner than if they were kept in their stalls all of the time in winter.

The greatest drawback to dairy farming in this section is the scarcity of labor. The usual wage is $30 to $35 per month with house and small garden.

WAS QUITE WILLING TO GROW

Applicant for Diplomatic Position Thought He Would Be Big Enough If Given Job.

During McKinley's administration Senator Carter of Montana told this story at a Washington gathering:

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for orders he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did.

The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senator and representatives about the matter before making the appointment.

"You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Saturday Evening Post.

SHAVING AMONG THE CHINESE

Barber Carries His Equipment About the Streets on a Pole Looking for Customers.

Chinese people have very light beards, and their practice for untold years has been to patronize the native barbers, who carry their equipment suspended at the two ends of a coolie pole across the shoulder and stroll about the native streets seeking customers. Comparatively few Chinese have adopted the plan of shaving themselves, and these consist entirely of those who have imbibed western ideas. With the abandonment of the queue becoming general, the habit of self-shaving, it is expected, will be promoted, for when a Chinese employs a native barber the latter shaves the front part of the head as well as the face, brushes the hair, and replays the queue. The shaving of the head and the care of the queue are things which a man cannot well undertake for himself, and with its abandonment the main objection to self-shaving will have been obviated.

FASTS THAT ARE OF RECORD.

Many long fasts undertaken voluntarily have been reported, but it is possible that longer ones, involuntarily or enforced, may have occurred without being reported, as of shipwrecked mariners or entombed miners. There are well authenticated cases of persons living thirty to forty days without solid food, but taking water. Some thirty-odd years ago Dr. Tanner of Minnesota went full forty days without food, but frequently taking a swallow of water. This experiment was made under the supervision of medical guards, and Dr. Tanner, though greatly emaciated, suffered no ill consequences. In 1854 a Frenchman who was buried at the bottom of a well was rescued on the thirtieth day still alive, but did not live long. Probably Dr. Tanner's case is the longest on record.

ENDLESS CHAIN.

"Well, did he start again?" "Yes; he's on his third time around now."

JUST ABOUT THAT.

"It means," replied the other half, "that the young man is not making enough to support a wife."

Necessity For "Best" Teacher In Each School District

By JOHN B. M'FERRAN, Chairman Educational Committee, Louisville Commercial Club

III.

A FRIEND of mine interested in schools happened in Boston not long since and in going about investigating the city's schools, on reaching the lowest and poorest part of the city, was surprised to see going up a splendid, beautiful school building to cost $375,000. He said, "Why on earth do you put such a handsome and costly building in this part of the city?" The answer was, "We want to make good, intelligent citizens out of these children, and we think this one of the important ways of doing it."

I should like to know why we pursue the unbusinesslike, illogical and absolutely unfair method of offering three kinds of teachers' certificates, especially now as the counties have the right to tax themselves up to 20 cents on $100 for general school purposes. ARE WE DELIBERATELY TRYING TO MAKE THREE CLASSES OF CITIZENS—THE INFERIOR, THE MODERATELY GOOD AND THE BEST? In a true democracy there is no use or room for classes. Ought not our efforts to be addressed to the one object of making an average intelligent good citizenship?

Under present arrangements we are compelling the poorer sections of our counties to employ third-class teachers whose capacity will not suffer them to go above a wage of $30 to $40 per month, while the cities and towns and wealthier parts of the counties are paying $60 to $75 per month. Of course this higher pay and better environment attract the best teachers, those holding the first class certificates. Now, this is manifestly unfair and very unwise.

THE BOYS AND GIRLS IN THE LESS WEALTHY PORTIONS OF OUR COUNTIES ARE ALREADY SUFFICIENTLY HANDICAPPED BY THEIR POVERTY AND IGNORANCE. WHY, THEN, UNDER HEAVEN, ARE THEY FURTHER HANDICAPPED BY CHEAP, INCOMPETENT TEACHERS?

There ought to be, as soon as the proper legislation can be had, only one certificate granted to all teachers and that of the first class. If there are districts unable to pay in full for a first class teacher let the county board make up the difference out of the county fund, for which it was intended. THESE POORER DISTRICTS PAY THE SAME RATE OF TAX, SO FAR AS THEY HAVE TAXABLES, AS DO THE WEALTHIER SECTIONS, AND THEY SHOULD HAVE A FAIR AND LIBERAL DEAL.

This is not only generous and unselfish, but it is Christlike, and it is a wise business proposition to make good and intelligent citizens out of these less fortunates. I think when the people consider this question deliberately they will see the folly of present methods and demand a change and will get it. Therefore it would be wise for teachers to prepare themselves to get first class certificates, and I think they have no time to lose because the change when started will come quickly. The state has two normal schools and the university whose business it is to prepare teachers.

Not 25 per cent of the teachers of the state are taking advantage of these opportunities, and many of them will be left out when the change comes. I am hoping to see the day when our teachers will be better paid, but when that day dawns it will bring with it also an undeniable demand for better prepared teachers.

If a man has a strong inclination to go to the devil, it is a pretty difficult matter to talk him out of it; you are a good deal of an orator if you can put up as powerful an argument as a morning-after headache, and that doesn't seem to help much.

As soon as a man believes that he has a good many friends, and has a persuasive way, and is a good mixer, he begins to think of running for office. But a man who really has these qualities can do better in business than he can do in politics.

SHOULD THE FISCAL COURT BE ABOLISHED?

We often hear some prominent citizen say that the affairs of our County could be managed with more efficiency, general satisfaction and promptness, if they were entrusted to three Commissioners, elected from the County at large, and the County Judge, instead of to a Fiscal Court, as now constituted.

We do not mean to reflect upon the integrity or business judgment of any member of the Fiscal Court, when we say we favor the commission plan of government in County matters.

The plan centralizes responsibility, removes local influences and has a tendency to elevate the general official standard.

In order that our taxpayers may consider the commission plan, we submit in full Section 1847 of the Kentucky Statutes, which is as follows:

"Commissioners May Constitute Fiscal Court.—Election and Term of Office.—But any county in the Commonwealth of Kentucky so desiring, it may have three commissioners, to be elected from the county at large, who, together with the Judge of the County Court, shall constitute the Fiscal Court of said county, to ascertain whether a county desires a Fiscal Court, composed of three commissioners and a County Judge. The County Judge of said county (upon application by written petition signed by 350 of the legal voters of said county, is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to submit to the qualified voters of the county, at the next general election thereafter to be held for county officers in accordance with all respects, with the provisions governing general elections prescribed by law, the question, 'Whether the Fiscal Court of the county shall be composed of three commissioners, to be elected from the county at large, and the Judge of the County Court.'

"It is hereby made the duty of the County Judge, after receiving said petition, to make an order upon his order book, directing the officers of the election in all the voting places of the county to open a poll to take the sense of the legal voters in the county upon the question above set forth, and to see that the officers of the election at the respective voting precincts in the county are furnished with poll books at said election for the purposes thereof. The Clerk of the County Court shall furnish the sheriff of said county with a copy of the orders made by the Judge of said County Court on the order book, and the sheriff shall cause the same to be published in all the county papers not less than four weeks previous to the election, and also to advertise the same by printed hand-bills posted not less than two weeks before said election in a conspicuous place in each of the voting places in said county.

"In counties wherein no newspapers are published the handbills shall be sufficient notice of the election; the voting to be by ballot, each ballot to have printed thereon, 'Are you in favor of the Fiscal Court of the county being composed of three commissioners to be elected from the county at large and the Judge of the County Court?' Said election shall be conducted, the returns thereof made, and the results thereof ascertained and determined in accordance with the provisions of the law governing general elections. The County Judge shall determine the sufficiency of the petitions presented from the poll book of the last previous general election.

"If a majority of the legal votes cast at said election are in favor of the Fiscal Court of said county being composed of three commissioners to be elected from the county at large and the Judge of the County Court, it shall be the duty of the County Judge, before the next general election for county officers; to divide the county into three districts, as nearly equal in population as possible; and at said election there shall be elected in said county by the qualified voters thereof, and every four years thereafter three commissioners, one from each district, who, with the Judge of the County Court, shall constitute the Fiscal Court of the county until otherwise changed by law. The election provided for herein shall not be held in any county in this Commonwealth oftener than once every eight years."

Instead of referring to Col. Roosevelt as the Bull Moose, it has been suggested that what is really meant is Bull loose, with the Republican party as the China shop.

Prewitt Reunion.

Last Thursday amidst the sylvan environments of Oil Springs, upon a day as bright and glorious as the records of the lives and achievements of their noble ancestors, the descendants of Michael and Elizabeth Prewitt, the progenitors of the Prewitt families had another of their notable reunions. With a spirit of veneration for their forebears and a tender feeling for each other, these persons are drawn together each year in a happy reunion. In the formation period of our grand old State, the Prewitts were of material aid. Their noble traits are the heritage of their many descendants, of whom there are no better people in the world. Not in granite and marble do they perpetuate the memory of their forebears, but by lives nobly lived.

Another characteristic of the Prewitt family is their love for each other. And so it is one great occasion when the eldest reminiscences for the delight of the youngest as upon the other day when one tot wanted to hunt bear, that he was sure lurked behind trees as in the day when grandfather crossed the border.

The number of the descendants has been augmented by two births, little Misses Elizabeth Hawes Reid, and Nettie Reid Snyder, having arrived in time to be counted. Three marriages have also taken place, Messrs. David S. Gay, Walker Reid and Clifton Prewitt, the wife of each being an attractive addition to the list of matrons. The picnic dinner was a delightful feature. A long table placed in the dancing pavilion was exquisitely decorated in miammoth dahlies, and laden with choicest viands.

One of the most interesting descendants of James and Henrietta Prewitt is Mrs. Allie Gay Jones, the genealogist of the family, who has successfully traced the lines of her family far back and to whom all may go for authentic information. Below is the list of those present:

James Prewitt and Kesiah French, descendants, present—James C. Prewitt.

Extravagance in Appropriations.

As has been frequently remarked, this is a great country, a billion dollar country, a Republican statesman said when chided for the large appropriations made by Congress. That may be true but it does not prove that as much money as was appropriated by Congress should be necessary to run the Government, and it would not be necessary if the good old Democratic doctrine of economical administration could be enforced by Democrats. As long, however, as the Republicans are in National power the crime of exacting more taxes than are necessary will be continued. Hope, based on apparently the surest grounds, now sees that this abominable state of affairs is soon to end and by the election of a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress.

The appropriations of Congress for the year are $1,019,626,143 66, which is $21,000,000 below the estimate and $7,000,000 less than the previous year notwithstanding the great increase of appropriations for pensions. Even with their handicap the Democrats have been able to put some check on extravagance. What they would do if given full control is easy to imagine. Divide the appropriations among the people of the United States as given by the last census it will be found that every man, woman and child pays nearly $12 per year expenses of the Government. Add to this amount the State, county, municipal and school taxes and it will be seen what a burden of taxes the people carry. That it will be relieved in part there is every reason to believe. The Democratic party is the party of economy and that it is shortly to come into its own even the stars sing together in confidence.—Lexington Herald.

A BIG CONTRACT.

"Can you give me something to eat, ma'am?" asked the tramp at the kitchen door.
"Are you willing to work for it?" asked the lady with the gingham apron.
"I certainly am."
"Well, those lazy hens out there haven't laid an egg in a month. If you go out there and induce them to lay a dozen eggs I'll give you one!"

WHY GREEK REPUBLIC FELL

Work of Corruptions and Dissensions Rather Than of the Man of Macedonia.

The old world has already revealed to us, in its unsealed books, the beginning and end of all its own marvelous struggles in the cause of liberty. Greece, lovely Greece, "the land of scholars and the nurse of arms," where sister republics, in fair procession, chanted the praises of liberty and the gods—where and what is she? For two thousand years the oppressor has ground her to the earth. Her arts are no more. The last sad relics of her temples are but the barracks of a ruthless soldiery. The fragments of her columns and her palaces are in the dust, yet beautiful in ruins. She fell not when the mighty were upon her. Her sons were united at Thermopylae and Marathon, and the tide of her triumph rolled back upon the Hellenes. She was conquered by her own factions. She fell by the hands of her own people. The man of Macedonia did not the work of destruction. It was already done by her own corruptions, banishments and dissensions.—Judge Story on "Our Duties to the Republic."

JOKE ON ARTHUR BRISBANE

Wilton Lackaye, the Actor, Was Astonished to Learn of Editorial Conferences With Hearst.

Arthur Brisbane, who is Mr. Hearst's close confidante in the management of the New York Journal, was in company with Wilton Lackaye, the actor, on upper Broadway one afternoon. The time passed quickly and it was nearly six o'clock when the editor suddenly bestirred himself and said he would have to start downtown. Lackaye urged Brisbane to accompany him to the Lambs' club and be his guest at dinner.

"I would like to," said Brisbane, "but there is an editorial conference called at six o'clock every evening and it is imperative that I be there."

"What is the idea of this editorial conference?" asked the actor.

"A conference between various heads of departments," explained Brisbane. "We get together and shape the plans for the next day's paper."

"Do you mean to imply," said the actor, pretending amazement, "that you and Hearst get out the Journal deliberately?"

MAY CLEAN UP MYSTERY.

The mystery concerning the birthplace of the Venerable Bede, England's first historian, has a prospect of being solved if the ecclesiastical scheme for excavating the foundations near the ancient tower of St. Peter's monastery, Wearmouth, is successful. The monastery was founded in the seventh century, and is now part of the fabric of Monkwearmouth parish church. The foundations of the building, believed to have been part of the monastery, are situated near the west side of the tower, and they have never been explored. The unearthing of the crypt and of interesting tablets and memorials is probable, and this may throw light on the birthplace of the Venerable Bede.—London Graphic.

A CONSCIENTIOUS DOG.

"I'm afraid, ma'am, that dog of yours would just as soon bite me as not."

"Well," answered the lady of the house to the wandering one, "Caesar is such a nice dog in his habits that I am sure he would rather not bite an unwashed stranger, but, on the other hand, his sense of duty is so strong that he is more than apt to bite you."

BETWEEN GIRLS.

"I haven't received a love letter from Jack in three days. I think it's a shame. I shall positively be ill unless I get a love letter by tomorrow."

"Well, my dear," said the other girl, "if you need a love letter from Jack as badly as that, I have forty or fifty I'll be glad to let you have."

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

"I can't understand it, don't you know, old chap?"

"What can't you understand?"
"A fellow I was talking to a little while ago said some of the greatest men in the history of the world had died without ever having seen a squash court."

SOUTH AFRICAN DIAMONDS.

The diamonds of South Africa are found in a peculiar basic rock called kimberlite, or "blue ground," which consists of chrysolite and various other minerals, and fills the pipes of ancient volcanoes. No diamonds have been obtained from the numerous foreign inclusions of igneous and sedimentary rocks that have been suspected of being the original matrix in which the carbon crystallized. The kimberlite has been much broken and altered and in the De Beers mine it has nearly seven per cent. of combined water at a depth of more than 2,000 feet. These evidences of explosions and disintegration, with the unusual amount of water and carbon at a great depth, have suggested to Dr. O. H. Derby a new theory of origin. The pipes of kimberlite, he believes, must have become saturated with liquids and gases while intensely heated. In such a mass the carbon—which would be present as carbon dioxide and probably in other gaseous forms—would be subjected to the conditions that experiments have shown may cause segregation and the forming of crystal.

WHEN SMILING WAS A SIN

Puritans of New England Were Exceedingly Severe on Sabbath Delinquents.

The Puritans of New England were fully as severe as their co-religionists in Britain to Sunday delinquents. Some of the pains and penalties exacted are recorded in Mrs. Earle's "Sabbath in Puritan New England." "Jonathan and Susanna Smith were each fined five shillings and costs for smiling on the Lord's day during service," while, in 1670, "two lovers, John Lewis and Sarah Chapman, were tried for sitting together on the Lord's day under an apple tree."

A BAD STRAIGHT!

Mrs. Gayboye—Just look at the clock, sir! Did you come home straight from the office?

Gayboye—Well, er, as straight as I could, Maria!

Pale Faces

Pale-faced, weak, and shaky women—who suffer every day with womanly weakness—need the help of a gentle tonic, with a building action on the womanly system. If you are weak—you need Cardui, the woman's tonic, because Cardui will act directly on the cause of your trouble. Cardui has a record of more than 50 years of success. It must be good.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Effie Graham, of Willard, Ky., says: "I was so weak I could hardly go. I suffered, nearly every month, for 3 years. When I began to take Cardui, my back hurt awfully. I only weighed 99 pounds. Not long after, I weighed 115. Now, I do all my work, and am in good health." Begin taking Cardui, today.

The Third Party.

Theodore Roosevelt is the nominee of the Progressive Party for President, and Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California, is the nominee for Vice-President. Now let the Bull Moose do his worst! "De-lighted," said Roosevelt when the nomination was awarded him amidst a mighty ovation. The new Progressive or third term party is now formally launched upon the political sea. Its platform is the most progressive ever submitted to a national convention in the history of the nation. In Roosevelt's address before the mighty herd of Bull Moose, he set forth in language curt and characteristic, the principles for which he has battled in his recent campaign for the nomination on the Republican ticket. Now the word has been spoken. The last blocks have been knocked from under the keel of the Progressive Party and it will leave a boiling tempest in its wake when it rides the crest of the ultra-progressive wave. Now the fight is on. Every candidate is in the field. Taft, Wilson and Roosevelt—three political giants and each prepared to fight to the last ditch. Their attitude is not unlike the passage in Macbeth: "Lay on, MacDuffe, and damned be him who first cries, 'Hold, enough!'" Roosevelt will not be victorious, but the Bull Moose will kick up a mighty row. The independent voter will swing to the third term in greater numbers than the Democrats and the Republicans think. The South is solid for Wilson and Roosevelt has as much chance of breaking the Democratic barrier as he had a chance of stopping the patented steam roller at Chicago. Now that the fight is on, let 'em fight! And may the best man win. His name is Wilson.

The man who doesn't amount to much usually has his sign out.

Successful Salesmanship.

To the clerk who would succeed, I say, cultivate charm of manner. Courteous manners in little things are an asset worth acquiring. When a customer approaches, rise and offer a chair. Step aside and let the store's guest pass first into the elevator. These are little things, but they make you and your work finer. To guy visitors or to give short, sharp, flippant answers, even to stupid or impudent people, is a great mistake. Meet rudeness with unfailing patience and politeness, and see how much better you feel. Your promise to a customer is your employer's promise. A broken promise always hurts; and it shows weakness in the character of a business organization, just as unreliability does in an individual. Most inaccuracies come from not really listening to what is said, or not really seeing what you put down. If your business is to wait on customers, be careful of your dress and appearance. Do your manicuring before you reach the store. A toothbrush is a good investment. A salesman with a bad breath is dear at any price. Let your dress be quiet, neat and not too fashionable. To have a prosperous appearance helps you inwardly and helps the business. Give each customer your whole attention, and give just as considerate attention to a little buyer as a big one. If asked for information, be sure you have it before you give it. Do not assume that the location or fact is so now because you once thought it so. Don't misdirect. Make your directions so clear that they will be real help. There are houses known by courteous telephoning. Telephone courtesy is a big thing, as courtesy always is. Loss of temper gains nothing. The less you require looking after, the more able you are to stand alone and to complete your tasks, the greater the reward. Then, if you cannot only do your work, but also intelligently and effectively direct the efforts of others, your reward is in exact ratio. And the more people you direct, and the higher the intelligence you can rigidly lend, the more valuable is your life. The most precious possession in your life is good health. Eat moderately, breathe deeply, exercise outdoors, and get eight hours' sleep. And cultivate charm of manner as a business proposition.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

IN THE OLD-FASHIONED WAY

Domestic Woman Gives Young Housekeeper Valuable Points on Making Soda Biscuit.

The old-fashioned domestic woman was telling the young housekeeper how to make soda biscuit, according to the New York Evening Sun. "You take," said she, "some milk or sour cream."

"How much?"

"As much as you can spare," said the old-fashioned domestic woman. "Then you sift your flour with your baking powder—if you use it."

"How much flour?" asked the young housekeeper.

"That depends, of course, on the amount of milk and the number of people you are baking for," said the old-fashioned domestic woman. "Then you make a dough that is stiff enough—"

"How stiff is that?"

"Well, that you have to learn by experience."

"Rub in the butter just before you add the milk, and while you mustn't scrimp the butter you must be careful not to use too much. Then you either drop the dough with a spoon or cut it with a biscuit cutter. The oven must be just hot enough, and not too hot; and be sure to take the biscuits out the moment they are done."

"How can I tell when they're done?" asked the young housekeeper.

"Why, they'll look just right when they're ready," said the old-fashioned domestic woman.

COMPLIMENTS FOR THE BRIDE.

I must relate a striking salutation that the bridal couple received from a Quaker client of mine, a shrewd dry goods merchant. Presented by an usher he surveyed the bride, whom he had never seen before, and then with the utmost deliberation proceeded to say:

"William, I think the bride has shown more judgment in her choice than these has."

Fortunately before I could turn to resent this strange salutation he continued as follows:

"Because it takes some penetration to discover thy good qualities, but hers can be seen at a glance."—A Retrospect of Forty Years.

HE DOESN'T LOOK IT.

In personal appearance Premier Asquith of Great Britain far from looks the important part he plays in the political affairs of Europe. His clothes do not fit him well and when he saunters into a session of the house of commons and sinks unabashedly into a seat he appears to be mightily bored by the proceedings. He affects an air of indifference that makes his fiery outbursts of eloquence most surprising to visitors to the house.

OF COURSE.

"Say the rest of it."

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered liver.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

Courage.

The snapping turtle, according to Emerson, will seize a stick and hold it if his head is cut off; break the eggs of the young and before his eyes are open he will bite fiercely; so he will bite before he is born and after he is dead; and similar courage the philosopher observes in wasps, ants, and cocks. A step higher is the courage of the timid hen ruffling her feathers and attacking a dog in protection of her young. When animal and moral courage combine in a great need, as at Thermopylae, or on the Titanic, they inspire us always. What we need oftenest, however, is the courage to meet the requirements of every day; to defy convention, or to obey it; to think alone, or to submit; to be willingly poor; to discuss science and poetry and man's welfare in a frivolous and luxury-loving company. In politics we need courage of various kinds; no kind more than that of the man who dares think out of his class, as Woodrow Wilson thinks; who dared to attack the system that made Princeton an attractive rich man's club; who as Governor refused to hear talk about what he owed to those who elected him, well knowing it was the people who elected him. Grover Cleveland was a man of an era earlier than this era, and in many ways profoundly different; but he was a man of such conviction and such courage that his place in history is high. The stand which he took about the Wilson Tariff Bill, when his party was betraying its platform, his unyielding opposition to free silver, and his willingness to invite any amount of unpopular popularity rather than sign pension bills which were not honest, put him in a class apart from other politicians. If Governor Wilson is elected President, and his party stands behind him, the Democratic record will be a splendid one, and the party will remain long in power. If, however, the peanut politicians and the special agents of the money power in Congress block Mr. Wilson, the result, we fully believe, will be that he will stand as firm as Cleveland, and after a bitter contest in the Democratic party, the Bull Moose party will be swept into office in 1916, and swept in by the votes of Democrats, who will be as ready to join the new party, if their own party acts badly in its great opportunity, as the Republicans have shown themselves since the fatal days of June.—Collier's.

The "White Fungus" as a Means of Destroying the Chinch-Bug in Cornfields.

Among the numerous plans suggested for getting rid of destructive farm pests, that of cultivating, scattering, and thus setting at work their natural enemies, has perhaps appealed to the popular imagination more strongly than any other. Since germs multiply naturally and spontaneously under favorable conditions so as to slay their thousands and tens of thousands, why, it is asked, cannot these small parasites be propagated artificially and then be sown broadcast to do their deadly work whenever we desire?

The work thus far done along this line at the Kentucky and other Experiment Stations shows that it is easy enough to grow some of the parasites in large quantities, but that the difficulty arises in getting them to spread when opposed by unfavorable weather. It must be remembered that the conditions most favorable to insects like the chinch-bugs, such as drought, are least favorable to their fungus parasites.

Yet it is remarked that the chinch-bug becomes troublesome and remains so without regard for weather conditions, whenever its enemies are not at hand, a fact showing that it is affected by the weather only indirectly; that, in other words, the weather controls it by controlling the numbers of its parasites. If the parasites are not present in a locality the chinch-bug simply luxuriates until they appear, and it is with this thought in mind that the Entomologist and Botanist of the Kentucky Station has made preparations to furnish Kentucky farmers with cultures of the white fungus for use against chinch-bugs.

If the bugs are present in corn fields even in small numbers it may be well to establish the fungus there as a precaution against further increase in their numbers, though it will be found easier to set it at work where a large supply of the bugs can be secured at one time. Judging by recent complaints of injury to corn, Grant, Gallatin and Henry counties offer an excellent field in which to test the white fungus.

Directions for using the fungus will accompany each package sent out from the Station. Those wishing to give it a trial should write to H. Garman, Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky. The fungus will be furnished free as long as the supply holds out and with the understanding that it is not guaranteed to "catch." This may depend, as explained, on conditions, and upon the care with which directions are followed.

PREACHING THE KINGDOM.

Matthew ix, 35 to x, 15—Sept. 8. "He that receiveth you receiveth Me, and he that receiveth Me receiveth Him that sent Me."—Matthew x, 10.

WE HAVE MORE about the Kingdom in today's study. Jesus sent forth His twelve Apostles two and two saying, "As you go, preach, The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

As the Savior cast out devils and healed the sick to allow the people to hear the Message and to illustrate the restoring work which His Kingdom will do. He gave the same power to His Apostles.

He told them that the Harvest was plentiful and the laborers few, and intimated that it was their privilege to be all the more energetic; but in the meantime to "pray the Lord of the Harvest to send forth more laborers." So the Master would have us feel a deep interest in the Harvest work now in progress, in the end of this Age.

These messengers were not to go to the Gentiles, but to "the lost sheep of the House of Israel." Why? God's Covenant promised the Messiahship to Abraham's Seed.

Jesus was the Seed of Abraham, but God had another feature in mind in connection with that Messiahship, namely, that He would have associated with Messiah in the Kingdom others who would share His glory, honor and immortality. This blessed privilege, which Abraham could not have fully understood, God nevertheless fulfilled to Abraham's children, as fully as though He had particularly stipulated it in the promise. No favor could go to others until after natural Israel had received the opportunity.

Harvesting Then and Now.

Another reason why the blessing should not have been given to the Gentiles was that it was to be a harvesting work, and not plowing, harrowing, nor sowing. It was appropriate, therefore, that the Harvest, which belonged to the Jews, should be confined to them. What was done for the Gentiles was the seed-sowing, as represented in the parable of the Wheat and Tares.

In the Harvest of the Gospel Age the reaping is to be done amongst those who have received the seed-sowing. This is an intimation to us that the Lord would now have the harvesting done chiefly amongst those who profess to be His people.

Jesus specially instructed the teachers of that Harvest that they should go forth trusting to Divine providence. They were not commissioned to beg nor to take up collections. They assumed therefore that they were merely to accept what might be voluntarily tendered. If they were not hospitably received they were to consider it the Lord's will that they go elsewhere. They were sent to search out the worthy ones; they should keep this in mind.

"More Tolerable For Sodom."

Jesus declared that in the Day of Judgment it will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah than for the city refusing to receive His representatives. This implies that the treatment will be tolerable; but why more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah and others in the Day of Judgment?

It was Jesus' declaration that, aside from a saintly few who received His Message gladly, the remainder were more blameworthy in God's sight than were the people of Sodom and Gomorrah. The sins of Sodom were certainly grievous in the sight of God, but the sin of carelessness in respect to the glorious Message of the Kingdom is in God's sight an indication of a still meaner condition of heart—one for whom there is less hope of an eventual salvation.

The Sodomites mentioned by Jesus were not so illuminated as those living in His day, yet He declares, "Fire rained down from heaven and destroyed them all." (Luke xvii, 20.) He declares that their judgment is still future; and, "In the Day of Judgment, it will be more tolerable" for them than for the people of Bethsaida and Chorazin.

The Day of Judgment. But why should the Sodomites have a Day of Judgment? Were they not judged, condemned and destroyed? Yes; but Adam and all of his race were judged and condemned. The only thing that came upon the Sodomites, in addition to what comes upon all mankind, was that they died violent deaths. The Apostle tells us they were made an example of all who reject God's grace and die the Second Death (1 Peter, ii, 6.) However, all of Adam's posterity are included in the Redemption work of Jesus. Hence they are merely sleeping with their fathers, awaiting the glorious morning, when the Redeemer of Adam and his race shall take to Himself His great power, and begin His work of blessing.

William Botts and others, who had appeared as objectors to the granting of the petition herein, objected to the motion of Shroat and the court took time.

Before the introduction of the evidence above named and on August 19, 1912, came William Botts, Teddy Minehan and James C. King, and filed their written objection to the application herein and to the granting of an order for an election to be held under said application, which said written objection is now noted of record.

The following persons from the following precincts appeared by their attorney, Lewis Apperson, and filed their written request, addressed to the Judge of said Court, to strike their names from the said petition, each of which written requests were here ordered to be filed, to-wit:

Thereafter came the following: Alfred Bean, George Branham, Ell. Stewart, Wade Tillman, Charley Smith, Frank Walker, Jack Garrett, Will Jones and Louis Haskins, who, by their attorney, Ed. C. O'Rear, presented their written request addressed to the Judge of this Court, withdrawing their previous written withdrawal from the local option petition in said court and elected to stand on their original signatures. William Botts and other objectors herein objected to the filing of said papers, which objection was overruled by the court, and to which the said William Botts and others excepted.

From the Fourth Ward came the following by their attorney, Lewis Apperson, and filed their written requests to have their names stricken from the petition herein, to-wit: R. H. A. Thomas, Alfred Anderson, Henry South, and moved the court to strike their names from the petition herein. Thereafter came again of the said petitioners: Nelson Garrett, John Fisher, John Duncan, Henry Bradshaw, George O'Rear, Henry South, Richard Chandler, by their attorney, Ed. C. O'Rear, and moved the court to permit them to withdraw their written withdrawal from the local option petition herein. Wm. Botts and others objected thereto, which objection was overruled by the Court, and the said written requests having been proved by the witnesses who attested same, the said petitioners are permitted to withdraw said previous withdrawals and to let their names stand on the petition as it was first signed. Wm. Botts and others saved an exception. The request of the other petitioners to withdraw their signatures was granted by the court. Upon evidence heard the name of Joe Hardy was stricken from the list of petitioners in Smithville Precinct because he is not a legal voter therein.

In Aaron's Run Precinct the following petitioners asked leave to withdraw their signatures: Chester Hatton, Thomas Tubbs, Tom Crooks, John Tubbs, Lane Stockdale, Shack Johnson, R. R. Hutchinson, W. T. Daugherty, B. H. Hatton, John T. Myers, J. E. Guilfoyle, Vance Shouse, H. M. Wade. Tom Tubbs was introduced as a witness by the petitioners, and upon cross-examination asked leave to withdraw his withdrawal from the petition and to allow his name to stand, which was objected to by Wm. Botts, &c., but the objection was overruled by the Court, to which Botts, &c., excepted. The other petitioners who asked to withdraw their names from the petition were granted leave to do so.

In Sideview Precinct the following petitioners asked leave to withdraw their names: Bulger Setters, Ben Martin, Roland McClanahan, Will Workman, Orey Gilvin, Tom Antom, Eddie Todd, W. B. Kidd, Nim Gilvin, Joe Gilvin, Lee Brown, John Setters, J. H. Green. Thereafter came again the said Will Workman, Orey Gilvin, Nim Gilvin, Joe Gilvin, Lee Brown, John Setters and J. H. Green, and by their attorney, Ed. C. O'Rear, filed their written request to allow their names to stand on the petition as signed originally and withdraw their withdrawals, which last motion was objected to by William Botts, &c., which objection was overruled and to which said Botts, &c., excepted. The said papers signed by the last named persons were proved by the attesting witnesses thereto. The other petitioners, Bulger Setters, &c., who asked to withdraw their signatures, and had not recanted, were permitted to withdraw same.

The hearing of this case was continued from day to day, the court adjourning from day to day and from time to time to accommodate the parties, from August 19th; when on August 23rd objectors, William Botts, &c., filed certain written motions to withdraw certain names and strike certain names from the said petitions, which said written motions are now noted of record and have been disposed of by the foregoing order. Insofar as said motions were not sustained said William Botts, &c., objected and excepted.

Thereupon came the petitioners herein and moved the court and offered to file supplemental petitions herein as an amendment to the original petitions, adding thereto names as follows:

Aaron's Run Precinct: James Willoughby, George W. Tout, Milton Bloom, William Shouse, Clarence Thatcher, James Hutzell, G. B. Dennis, Gum Toy, C. A. Royse, and moved the court to permit the said petitioners to appear in their own behalf and in behalf of the other petitioners and voters of said precinct, in lieu of those who had withdrawn their names from said petition, to which William Botts, &c., objected. Thereupon the petitioners introduced the affidavit of Matt Ford to prove the execution of said petition and that said petitioners were citizens and legal voters of said precinct; whereupon the Court overruled the objection of Botts, &c., and permitted said supplemental and amended petition to be filed, to which said Botts, &c., excepted.

Thereupon came the petitioners and F. G. Trimble, Mart Guy, Alfred Guy, Ed Walker, Joe Grubbs, D. B. Skidmore, Allen Keys, Robert Stewart, and moved that the last named persons be allowed to file their supplemental petition to operate as an amended petition herein from Smithville Precinct, and proved the execution of the said supplemental petition and that the said petitioners were citizens and residents and voters in said precinct by witnesses W. H. Dyson, Robert Marshall and H. C. Ledford. William Botts, &c., objected, objection being overruled and exception saved; and said supplemental petition was ordered to be filed.

Fourth Ward, Mt. Sterling: Thereupon came said petitioners and C. F. Rainey, Ike Rogers, H. J. Porter, J. C. Bailey, C. H. Petry, R. D. Persons and moved and offered to file their supplemental and amended petition for the Fourth Ward, and proved the signature of said C. F. Rainey and five others on said supplemental petition, and that they were residents and legal voters in said ward, to the filing of which William Botts, &c., objected, their objection being overruled and they excepted. Said amended and supplemental petition is ordered to be filed.

Thereupon came petitioners and Richard Gossett, William Bradshaw, H. N. Howard, W.
